Important Notes/Tips:

- On arrival, do accept airport staff's offer to help. Reason being:
 - i) Priority given where you can skip the long queues at the airport
 - ii) It's somewhat confusing inside the airport, especially for foreigners, with no one directing you, yet many checks required. Tough to manage loading baggage's to be scanned and keep an eye on your bags, when you're asked to move some distance away for body checks.
- (Tip that airport staff later, once you get a boarding pass)
- No hand-carry of your usual big bags, all to be checked in (except camera bag or handbag). The airlines will give you a higher limit, I.e. Usual check-in weight + hand carry weight = total check-in at Srinagar. Packed your sweets and nuts in a luggage bag for check-in, wrapped and protected in a thick bag. It is very difficult to convince the counter staff hence we suggest you keep your all belongings in your luggage bag.
- Remember to identify your bags before you proceed to your boarding gate. Same floor as the departure gates/bag checks. The staff will then stamp your luggage tags.
- Airport checks here are always a pain in my opinion. However, a trip to Kashmir is always good and safe! Love nature, mountains, valleys, rivers, local food, snow, and all. Will be back again!
